Hi everyone, things are stirring.
We still don't have a DCO, but our MPs wrote to ministers to protest the delay..
And matters have moved 2 steps on :
Questions put to RSP have now been answered, so we are waiting on the DfT.

Holi celebrations at Ellington

Children, families and staff from Ellington Infant School in Ramsgate took part in a colour-filled celebration in honour of the Hindu festival Holi yesterday (March 24).

The school invited in Kalpesh Zalavadiya, a classically trained Indian dance teacher, to work with all of the children in a Bollywood-inspired day of music and dance. Kalpesh put children and staff through their paces in workshops which taught a number of dance routines, which would be put together for a whole school performance in the afternoon.

Parents and families were invited along to watch and enjoy the celebrations. After the main dances had been performed, Kalpesh produced the paint powders, which is when the afternoon turned colourful and the spirit of Holi really could be seen.

Holi is a popular, ancient and auspicious Hindu festival which signifies the triumph of good over evil. Holi celebrates the arrival of spring, the blossoming of love and for many it's a festival day to meet others, play and laugh, forget and forgive, and repair broken relationships.
